Mt. Prospect, Ill., July 18, 2017 – When the task is clearing dust and debris on the jobsite, the Bosch GBL 18V-71 18V brings efficiency and ergonomic design to one of the most functional cordless professional-grade blowers available. With a motor that delivers powerful 71 CFM (cubic feet per minute) volume (167 mph) in a balanced tool, Bosch offers a blower that gets work done quickly.

When paired with the Bosch 622 6.0 Ah 18-volt battery or the Bosch GSA18V 6.3 Ah CORE18V battery, the GBL 18V-71 blower delivers extreme runtime of up to 54 minutes at low speed. The runtime parameter is five minutes per battery amp hour at high speed, nine minutes per amp hour at low speed.

“The Bosch GBL18V-71 is a professional-grade blower with great power at 71 CFM, but it doesn’t sacrifice versatility because it’s lightweight as well,” said Jim Stevens, product manager, BOSCH POWER TOOLS. “There are many cordless blowers available, but pro users are looking for a compact blower that incorporates both power and runtime. The GBL 18V-71 delivers both.”

The blower’s variable speeds and ergonomic handle with soft grip make work easier. In addition, the tool is optimally balanced to minimize user fatigue, especially during long periods of use.

The GBL18V-71 is being sold in the GBL18V-71N kit, which includes a standard nozzle, nozzle extension and a small diameter nozzle with a debris-collection tube. The small-diameter nozzle is for cleaning out small holes and cracks. The debris-collection tube that fits over the small nozzle is designed to catch the cleared-out dirt and dust so that it doesn’t fly into the user’s face.
