Bosch Power Tools New GWS12V-30 12V Max Brushless 3-inch Angle Grinder Tackles Tough Cuts with Ease

Tool seamlessly moves through hard materials, while providing users an ergonomic design supporting hand comfort on the job

MT. PROSPECT, Ill., June 8, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- Today, Bosch Power Tools, the global leader for power tools and power tool accessories, announced the launch of the GWS12V-30 12V Max Brushless 3-inch Angle Grinder, adding to its robust collection of grinding technology. With an optimized gear structure, fast breaking time, and brushless motor to maximize battery runtime, the GWS12V-30 grinder provides the users with the endurance needed to handle heavy-duty cutting applications on a variety of jobs.

With a 19,500 no-load RPM speed, the angle grinder effortlessly works through hard materials, and when the task is done, the tool brakes in less than a second after being turned off to provide safety and battery efficiency to tool users.

"The GWS12V-30 angle grinder offers pros more tool control, speed and power efficiency when working to cut through tough materials from threaded rods, tile and brick. With its ergonomic and compact build that fits in the palm of a user's hand, pros will experience comfort during a heavy-duty task," said Corey Hinkel, Product Manager for Bosch Power Tools. "We are excited to bring the angle grinder to market and continue to share Bosch Power Tools' commitment to product quality with both loyal and new users."
